You are Helping to Save Wildlife

Unlike most other animal parks and wildlife centres over half the money spent at Wildwood goes straight into conservation projects. As a Charity every penny you give goes to the upkeep of our park, looking after our animals and conservation.

The experts at Wildwood have created a number of highly successful projects to save our most threatened wildlife.

- Saving the water vole, Britain's most threatened mammal
- Helping to restore Kent's most precious nature reserves by the innovative use of wild horses
- Bringing the extinct European beaver back to Britain
- Bringing back the dormouse & red squirrel to areas where they have been made extinct

By becoming a member you will play an active role in nature conservation

Go Carbon Neutral

Every time you travel to Wildwood your car emits carbon into the atmosphere. The introduction of carbon in all its forms is the main cause of global warming. Wildwood is asking all its members to contribute an additional £1 per month to their monthly membership fee to offset the carbon they produce on their journeys to Wildwood.

Wildwood will purchase nature reserves where the carbon produced by your car as you travel to Wildwood will be locked back into nature. This approach also creates and protects habitats for many types of endangered animals and plants, as well as making a contribution to reducing the effect you have on global warming.

Go carbon neutral on each trip to Wildwood - Today!!
